REICHSTAG HEARS JOYOUS
NEWS THAT ENGLAND'S DOOM IS SEALED IN TWO MONTHS

Herr Von Freydrand, Conservative Leader, Quotes Prediction of an Admiral Who Says He is Absolutely Sure End of British Can be Brought About in That Time; Announcement Made to Confound Opponents of Ruthless Submarine Warfare.

DECLARES OTHER FOES WILL NOT BE EASY

COPENHAGEN, via London, June 13.—England is given less than two months of life by Herr von Freydrand, conservative leader in the Reichstag. In a speech to his electors he quoted a German admiral as saying:

"We hope, yes, we are certain that in two months at the most the condition of the English will be such that Great Britain will be finished."

Herr von Freydrand had asked the admiral whether he believed Germany could win a complete victory through the submarine campaign. The admiral's confident reply was used by the conservative leader to confound "doubters and lukewarm individuals" found among the German masses who are questioning in increasing degree the political and military efficacy of "ruthless submarine warfare."

Herr Freydrand also gave warning against hope of a separate peace with Russia and a consequent easy victory over Germany's other opponents.

15 GERMAN AIRPLANES IN BOMBARDMENT OF LONDON

British Flying Machines and Anti Aircraft Guns Drive
Attackers Off.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, June 13.—The last end of London was bombarded today by 15 hostile airplanes. A large number of British airplanes pursued the Germans who flew over Essex to London.

The German airplanes appeared over London shortly before noon. A great battle occurred in the air. The invaders were attacked by anti aircraft guns as well as by British aviators.

The following official statement was issued:

"Lord French, in command of the home defenses, reports that about 15 hostile airplanes were heard crossing the Essex coast passing in the vicinity of the Nore, part of the estuary of the Thames, at about 11 A. M. They proceeded in the direction of London spreading when they had covered about half the distance.

"The last London has been attacked and bombarded. Anti aircraft guns of the London defenses have been in action. A number of airplanes are still up in pursuit."

This is the fourth raid by the Germans in the new series of aerial attacks on England in which airplanes have been substituted for Zeppelins, apparently on account of the success of the British in bringing down the dirigibles.

As on previous occasions the airplanes made the attack in daylight. The death of 15 persons and the injury of 200 others by air raid was announced in the House of Lords today by the Earl of Derby, secretary of state for war. He said these figures might be exceeded when fuller reports are received.

The Earl of Derby said that 10 of these killed and 50 of the injured were children.

One report states today that a bomb struck a schoolhouse, killing 10 children and injuring 50. One machine was brought down.

LEYLAND LINER ANGLIAN
SUNK BY SUBMARINE

BOSTON, June 13.—The Leyland liner Anglian which left Boston May 30 for Liverpool has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, according to cable advices received by agents here today.

RUSSIAN MISSION TO U. S.
ARRIVES AT PACIFIC PORT

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The Russian mission to the United States headed by Boris H. Bakumoff as special ambassador, has landed at a Pacific port. The party, consisting of about 40 members, will stop first at Seattle and proceed to Washington.

BRITISH MAKE GOOD
TWO MILE ADVANCE

In the field of military operation, the greatest activity continued to be shown by the British. Last night witnessed no new advance for them. General Palmer's troops apparently being engaged in making good their advance scored on a two mile front east and northeast of Mesines yesterday, when the village of Jascard was occupied.

Further south, however, the British forces had to withstand a counter attack on the new position that was won yesterday, the whole of Lens on both sides of the Souchez river. This was success-stuffy met, the Germans being driven off by artillery and machine gun fire.

On the French front, there was little activity except by the artillery.

JAMESON'S FIVE STEPS WILL BE NAVAL RISK

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Accepting the House compromise for acquisition of the Jamestown expedition site as a naval base, the Senate today finally adopted the $3,341,000 war bill and sent it to the President.

ROYAL FIRST AID TEAM IS VICTOR IN RAINEY CONTESTS

About 2,000 Persons Present at Annual Tests at Shady Grove Park.

10 TEAMS IN COMPETITION

Winner Gets Silken Banner and Prize of $50 in Cash; Mount Bradlock
Shops Finishes Third But Only Five Points Separate First and Tenth.

The second annual first aid contest and field meet of the employees of W. J. Rainey was held yesterday afternoon at Shady Grove park, with at least 2,000 people present to watch or to participate in the various events of the day.

The first aid work, the big feature of the day, was conducted early in the afternoon. The Royal team, captained by Andrew Thompson, took first prize, but by a close margin. As a matter of fact, there was only a difference of five points between the scores of the first and last teams, and there were 10 teams in the contest.

Royal, through its victory yesterday, gains possession of a handsome silken banner, which it will hold until the next meet, and, in addition, $50 in gold. Revere, captained by Sumner Brown, came in second, and will receive $35 in gold. Mount Bradlock Machine Shops was third, and All-son fourth. Following this, the teams were bunched, three having identical the same percentage. The work of all the men was watched with intense interest and the announcement of the winners awaited with some anxiety.

Some junior first aid work followed, and the track and field events were then held. In the evening there was dancing. Altogether it was a big day for the Rainey employees, with something doing all the time.

The teams were composed of the following men:

MAN SENTENCED TO PENITENTIARY FOR NOT REGISTERING

Condemned for Almost a Year Punishment for Traveler Who Didn't Like Draft Law.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Penitentiary sentence of 11 months and 29 days for not registering under the draft law was imposed by United States Judge Chaffin in Brooklyn today on Herman P. Levine, school teacher and college graduate.

This is the first person sentenced for this offense as far as known here. He had pleaded guilty. When arraigned, Levine was given opportunity to register.

"I do not think it is right, and I refuse," he said. Levine walked into the United States marshal's office on the day after registration and volunteered the information that he had not responded as required and saying he did not intend to do so. He is 23 years old.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Louis Kramer, self confessed anarchist, was today sentenced to two years in Atlanta prison and ordered to pay a fine of $10,000 for conspiracy against conscription registration. He also received a year in jail for failing to register.

ROSE SALE NETS $437

Highest Price Paid Is $5. Two Being Sold at That Figure.

Connellsville's Red Cross Chapter will receive $137.85 the proceeds from the second annual Rose Day of the Connellsville Suffrage party yesterday. Two single roses each brought as high as $5.00. The ladies met with wonderful success, and the amount received from the sale was much larger than was expected.

Everybody was willing to help the Red Cross and as the result the ladies experienced no difficulty in disposing of quantities of roses, which were so kindly donated by many of the city's residents. The members of the Woman's Suffrage Party greatly appreciate the assistance of the public in general. To Mrs. A. L. Vannatta, who was chairman of the committee, is due great credit for the successful manner in which the sale was carried out. The many other committees who also devoted their time to the cause, are deserving of a great share of the credit.

The following amounts were taken in at the various stands: Sout-on theatre, $109.20, Brimstone corner, $71.83; Orpheum theatre, $18.00; Wright-Metzler company, $56.10; West Penn, $28.78, Paramount theatre, $26.50; Keagy's drug store, $17.10; Postoffice, $36.01; Hyatt & Marsh garage, West Side, $52.27; Colonial theatre, $78.56.

Case of Menzies.

A case of menzies was reported to the Board of Health today.

ONLY WEATHER CAN MAR
SCOTSDALE'S FLAG DAY CELEBRATION TOMORROW

Monster Parade Will Wind Up
With Speechmaking at Loucks Park.

Lieut. Gov. Frank B. McClain.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, June 13.—Nothing but bad weather can prevent Scotland's having the biggest celebration of its history tomorrow afternoon in observance of Flag Day.

A monster parade, in which military companies, patriotic and fraternal orders, school children and floats will participate, together with 12 or more bands, will wind up at Loucks park where Lieutenant Governor Frank B. McClain will make the principal address. Dr. J. P. McCrory of Pittsburgh will also speak. The parade will start at 1:30 P. M.

The Scottdale Lions sponsored the celebration and the preparations have broadened out to such an extent that there is no doubt but that it will be the greatest ever held in the mill town.

A massed band of about 275 players will play "The Star Spangled Banner" at the park after the parade, under the direction of J. P. Hardy, director of the Scottdale G. A. R. band.

Company D of Connellsville, the Tenth Regiment hospital corps, Company E of Mount Pleasant, Company F of Greensburg, the Dunbar Military company, the Tenth Regiment Machine gun company with five Lewis machine guns, Colonel Coulter and staff, Boy Scouts, Red Cross societies, state police and numerous other organizations will march.

The town will be gallantly decorated in national colors. Hotel proprietors have agreed to close their bars from 1 to 2 o'clock out of respect to "Old Glory." Liberty hats, to be worn by school children, have already been distributed.

GRANDFATHER BUYS
$500 LIBERTY BOND
FOR 4-DAY OLD BABE

D. Sinclair Sent This Becomes Youngest Subscriber to Loan in Connellsville.

The distinction of being the youngest person in Connellsville to own a Liberty bond has been taken from Miss Sara Jaffa Goldsmith, eight months old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. N. Goldsmith, by tiny D. Sinclair Scott, four days old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Scott.

Master Scott's grandfather, Daniel Sinclair, for whom he is named, bought a $500 bond for him through the First National Bank when he was but two days old. D. Sinclair Scott was born last Saturday at the home of his grandparents on North Pittsburgh street.

FOUR SNYDER CHILDREN
JOIN BOND BUYING ARMY.

Henry P. Snyder, son of Mrs. K. M. Snyder, president of The Courier company, purchased a $50 Liberty bond through the First National bank and then found he had enough money left to buy a $50 bond for his baby sister, Mary Elizabeth Snyder, two years old.

Miss Alice Kuhn Snyder, and Miss Katherine McIntyre Snyder also invested their savings in $50 Liberty bonds and the Snyder children thus join the rapidly growing army of local kiddies who have given their savings to Uncle Sam with the great war against Germany.

Coroner's Verdict on Kidnaping.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 13.—A coroner's jury which heard the testimony of the four men who recovered the body of baby Lloyd Keet, kidnaped son of J. H. Keet, from an old well on the Crenshaw farm last Saturday, returned a verdict today that the child "came to his death at the hands of party or parties to this jury unknown."

Robbed at Carnival.

Charles Jones, colored, was robbed of $5 at the carnival grounds last evening, he told the police this morning. Joe Watkins, colored, of Richmond, Va., was identified by Jones as one of the two men who stole the money, and was held on a charge of highway robbery. The second robber escaped, when Watkins resisted, it becoming necessary then for two cops to concentrate on the one man, while the other one got away.

Extra Service.

The West Penn will provide whatever extra service is necessary for the Flag Day celebration at Scottdale tomorrow.

Weather Forecast

Thundershowers tonight and probably tomorrow, cooler. Is the noon weather forecast for Western Pennsylvania.

Temperature Record.

Maximum 83 78
Minimum 65 65
Mean 73 67

The Young river fell from 3.40 to 3.20 feet during the night.

LIBERTY LOAN BOND
SALES HERE REACH
$370,000 AT NOON

First National Bank Runs Second National Close Race for Leadership.

With the time for receiving subscriptions to the Liberty loan fast drawing to a close, the banks of Connellsville report that nearly $370,000 worth of the bonds had been sold up to noon today.

All subscriptions must be forwarded to the Federal Reserve bank at Cleveland by noon on Friday, so that no subscriptions can be received in this district after tomorrow. Local bankers feel that this afternoon and tomorrow will be the biggest days for the loan here. So many people put things off until the last minute, they say, and now that they realize that the loan is still undersubscribed, they will come to the front with their dollars.

The Second National bank leads all the others with a total subscription of $122,160. This includes the bank's $50,000 subscription. The rest of the money comes from private parties. At the Second National every one is pulling for the success of the bond. The officials are working to get subscriptions, and to everyone who comes in is explained the idea of the Liberty loan.

The First National bank is now a close second with just $107,500 subscribed up to noon today. The First National received subscriptions totaling more than $100,000 during yesterday afternoon and this morning.

At the Citizens' National, the subscription totals $40,000, of which $25,000 is the bank's and $15,000 private. Most of the private subscriptions were large ones. One was for $5,000, and there were several for $1,000, and a number for $500.

The Colonial National has already sent in its subscription of $15,000. This included $10,000 from the bank, and $5,000 from private parties. A little may be added to this today and tomorrow. If so, it will be sent on after the first amount.

The Title & Trust company had received subscriptions amounting to about $50,000, at noon. The Yough Trust company had received subscriptions for $30,000, of which $15,000 was the bank's own subscription. The Union National had received $15,000, this including the bank's and private subscriptions.

Connellsville's total is thus brought to $369,550. Uniontown banks, at the close of business yesterday, had received $785,000, and Brownsville banks $235,000. About $250,000 from Fayette county is still necessary if its allotment is to be made good.

Local bankers are fast facing their fears, however, that this section will not do its part. The indications now are, they are agreed, that the county will subscribe more than the $2,000,000 allotted to it before the close of the sale tomorrow, and that the county as a whole will greatly over-subscribe the bond.

The employees of the transportation and railway departments of the West Penn system, has purchased $18,000 worth of the bonds, it was announced today. The company backed the sale, offering an easy payment system to the men. The transportation department employees of the Connellsville, Uniontown and Greensburg divisions have responded liberally, as have the mechanical department employees working at the car house here. Several of the West Penn men have taken bonds for as high as $1,500, but the majority issued to them are for $100, and there are a few of the $50 denomination.

NATIONAL BANKS MAY
BUY MANY LIBERTY BONDS

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The comptroller of the currency today announced his belief that the national banks "could reasonably and conservatively subscribe on their own account" to Liberty bonds to the extent of six per cent of their real resources and declared that after July 1 a "roll of honor" would be published of all national banks whose subscriptions amount to five per cent of their resources.

$1,048,000,000 TOTAL
LIBERTY LOAN SUBSCRIPTIONS

NEW YORK, June 13.—Liberty loan subscriptions aggregated $1,048,000,000 at 11 o'clock today, according to the total tabulated subscriptions as recorded in the treasury department at Washington, it was announced today. This total, it was stated, included all the Federal reserve districts with the exception of Dallas, Texas, and San Francisco.

SECOND SISTER DIES.

Mill Run Family Loves Two From Spain Meningitis.

Anna Katherine Mansberry, six years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mansberry of Mill Run, died yesterday at the home of her parents of spinal meningitis. Funeral Thursday with interment in the Mill Run cemetery.

The little girl was a sister of Elsie Mansberry, who died two weeks ago of the same disease. Physicians were puzzled with the case.

Superintendent to Wed.

M. J. Bloughin, superintendent of the Connellsville division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was granted a license to marry Miss Anna K. Johnson of Garrett, Ind., yesterday in Uniontown. Mr. Bloughin, who was recently appointed superintendent to succeed O. L. Eaton, left this afternoon to be married. Where the ceremony was to take place could not be learned.

Major Buys Stanley Steamer.

Mayor R. Manetta, accompanied by his son George, J. Melvin Grey and A. D. Seisson, went to Pittsburgh this morning after his new seven passenger Stanley steamer.

1917 CLASS PLAY,
"GREEN STOCKINGS," PROVES A BIG HIT

New Stars Added to Firmament in Persons of Frances Daugherty and Eva Showman.

BIG AUDIENCE ATTENDS

Despite Large Crowd, Seniors Show
No Signs of Nervousness and There is No Fluttering or Forgetting; Credit
Due All Concerned in Production.

The reputation which Connellsville high school class plays have gotten in recent years for amateur productions of almost professional excellence was enhanced last night when the class of 1917 added "Green Stockings" to the now long list of successes. When girls and boys under 20 can take a stage comedy of many excruciating, read the lines to perfection and carry out the business that the text calls for so that an audience can forget they are amateurs and settle down to an enjoyment of the story as it is developed, it is something to be proud of. This was what the 1917 cast did last night at The Colonial.

A full house greeted the performers. There were many standing and part of the gallery was filled with those who were not able to secure seats on the other floors. Notwithstanding this none of the performers appeared nervous and there was no flinching and no forgetting.

Each succeeding class play develops new stars. After last night the names of Misses Frances Daugherty and Eva Showman will be added to the firmament of stellar lights. As Celis Faraday, the oldest of the Faraday girls, whose agile brain conjures up a fictitious lover to whom she announces her engagement, Miss Daugherty was just fine. She read her lines perfectly and at times "rose to considerable heights of emotional acting" (as an honest-to-goodness critic might say). This with her charming stage presence and pretty dresses, made her irresistible in the leading part.

As Aunt Ida, Miss Showman had the comedy role of the piece and she took advantage of every opportunity. Her hysterics in the last act were as funny as any comedy bit ever seen here, professional or amateur. Her makeup, too, was excellent.

The boys of the cast also covered themselves with glory. Harold Horner was all that could be desired as Colonel Smith, the present-in-person representation of General's made-up lover. Frank Wright was very good as Robert Tarver, and Fred Marietta was entirely capable as William Faraday, the girls' father. Valentine Burgess was very funny as the gruff old Admiral Grice, and Isadore Vogel and Edgar Cloutier acted up to the requirements of their roles as James Raleigh and Harry Steele.

Ruth Mae Sellers as Phyllis Faraday was excellent and Misses Eleanor Goldsmith and Margaret Wislari both looked charming and read their lines well as the other Faraday sisters. Dorothy Edmunds was a very dainty maid.

The production reflects credit upon all concerned in it, first upon the cast and next upon the instructor, W. H. Seawright, assistant principal of the high school, whose training has put the class plays upon such a high level. In a sense "Green Stockings" was his valdictory for Mr. Seawright leaves the faculty this year to take a position in the Schenley high school at Pittsburgh next year.

It is too bad that the 1917 class play must be given only once. It would bear repeating.

The Class Day exercises will be held this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Colonial. The theatre will be opened to the public at 8:15 o'clock, and tickets will be honored up until that time.

CASES CONCLUDED

Jury Apportions Costs in Chinn-Chetlin Suits.

The Chinn-Chetlin controversy, which grew out of the blocking of the entrance to Chetlin's store here by building operations of Chinn was settled up in court yesterday, the four cases being decided as follows:

William Chetlin found not guilty of malicious mischief, and the costs placed on Chetlin and Alex Chinn, the prosecutor, in equal proportions.

William Chetlin found not guilty of assault and battery and pointing firearms, and the costs divided between him and Alex Chinn, the prosecutor.

Alex Chinn found not guilty of malicious mischief, but directed to pay costs.

Alex Chinn and Jacob Gardner found not guilty of assault and battery, and aggravated assault and battery, but directed to pay costs.

Chief of Police B. Rottler today received a communication from the War Department soliciting the cooperation of the police in the enforcement of the ban on liquor sales to soldiers and sailors.

Major Buys Stanley Steamer.

Mayor R. Manetta, accompanied by his son George, J. Melvin Grey and A. D. Seisson, went to Pittsburgh this morning after his new seven passenger Stanley steamer.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Miss Christina Richter of this city and William G. Johnson, of Oliver No. 1, were married last evening at 7 o'clock in Uniontown by Justice of the Peace W. T. Hawk at his home in Fairview street. There were no attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside at Oliver No. 1.

Mrs. Ida S. Will of Somerset has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Martha Will, to Walter W. Bryson, son of Mrs. James H. Bryson of North Union township. The ceremony was solemnized in the presence of the Trinity Lutheran church of Somerset, with Rev. I. H. Wagner officiating. Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Bryson left for a wedding trip to New York state after which they will be at the bride's home. Mrs. Bryson was graduated from the California State normal, a member of the class of 1912, and since then had been teaching in the schools at Windber. The bridegroom is a State college man, having received his degree in agriculture in 1916. He is a member of the Omega Epsilon fraternity and is one of the best known young farmers of the county.

On account of the death of Kell Long, the regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. E. Kerr in East Fairview avenue instead of Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Cort as previously announced.

The weekly Bible study of the Business Women's Christian Association will be held tonight in the association room in the First National Bank building.

The I. X. L. Bible class of the United Presbyterian church met last night at the home of Mrs. Ray Fornwalt at Wheeler. There was a large attendance and the meeting was a very enjoyable one. Business of a routine nature was transacted followed by a social meeting and refreshments. The July meeting will be held at the home of Miss Sarah Broucher.

The Sunday School Association of the Trinity reformed church will meet tonight at the close of the regular prayer services.

Mrs. Arthur Nelson will entertain the West Side Needleworkers tomorrow evening at her home in Ninth street, Greenwood.

SEMANS WHEN DYING TOLD MANY PERSONS JOHNSON KILLED HIM

Mother, Friend, Nurse, Doctor and Others Told of Murdered Man's Declarations.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, June 13.—Mrs. Deborah Semans, 75 years old, mother of Albert P. Semans, the Hopwood storekeeper for whose death "Fons" Johnson is on trial in criminal court before Judge J. C. Van Swearingen, testified today that her son in the Uniontown hospital on May 5 made a dying declaration in which he declared that "Fons" Johnson shot him.

Mrs. Semans testified that she went to the hospital on the morning following the shooting with Mrs. Annetta Sibbigh, a neighbor. The mother of Mr. Semans testified that her son told her there that "Fons" Johnson shot him, and that his motive was to kill and rob him.

Attorneys A. E. Jones and George Patterson, counsel for Johnson, objected to Mrs. Semans' testimony regarding the motive and moved that it be stricken out on the grounds that it was a conclusion of Albert Semans and that Johnson was not a party to the testimony as sustained by Judge Van Swearingen.

The mother of Albert Semans testified that her son told her that Lee Smith, his attorney, would look after his business.

Mrs. Annetta Sibbigh testified that she went to the hospital with Mrs. Semans and she heard Albert say that Johnson shot him as he turned around to get him some potatoes.

Miss Ada Burnworth, a nurse who attended Mr. Semans, testified that Semans made a dying declaration to her. She said that she did not write it down. She said that she took charge of the case about 10 o'clock on May 5 and at that time Semans' physical condition was not good, but that his mental condition was good.

She said that he told her that he was getting ready to close the store when Johnson came in. He did not look at him, but kept his eyes to the floor and had his hand in his pocket. He ordered some groceries and Semans was getting potatoes for him, he heard a report. He felt injured, and believed that Johnson had shot him. When Johnson came into the store, the nurse testified Semans told her, he asked Semans if he was alone and if there was any danger of anyone coming in.

The trial of the case will not likely be concluded before tomorrow. The commonwealth likely will close its case early this afternoon.

ARRESTS BOARDER.

Mrs. John Haddock Charges Man With False Pretense.

Francis Milbert will be given a hearing this evening before Alderman Eugene O'Donovan of the West Side on a charge of getting board by false pretenses. He was arrested on information made by Mrs. John Haddock, who conducts a boarding house on the West Side.

The prosecutor alleges that Milbert boarded at her house for two weeks and did not pay. She says he told her, when he took rooms, that the superintendent at the power plant would stand for the rent.

No Rifle Club Drill.

Owing to the hospital corps drilling on Thursday night, the Connelville Rifle club will hold its business meeting and drill Friday evening. All members are requested to note the change of date and are urged to be present as business of importance will be brought up at the meeting.

175 COMFORT SETS PLEDGED; MRS. M. E. STRAWN MAKES FIRST

Dawson Woman's Knitting on Display in Wright-Meteler Store Window.

At a big and enthusiastic meeting of the Comforts Branch of the Navy League yesterday afternoon at the Colonial Inn, 30 more comfort sets, making a total of 175, were pledged.

Mrs. M. E. Strawn of Dawson has the honor of being the first member of the entire branch, to complete a set and following a request of the Wright-Meteler company for the first set, Mrs. Strawn's work is now on display in one of the store's windows. The set consists of a sleeveless jacket, a pair of wristlets, a helmet and a muffler. Mrs. Strawn made it in two weeks. She is an enthusiastic worker in the Dawson section of the Navy League. Also displayed in the same window is a sleeveless jacket made by Mrs. Mary Louisa of Scotland who is a member of the Washington, D. C. Comforts Branch and is greatly interested in the branch of this section. Mrs. J. Melvin Grey, chairman of the branch, has just received word that Mrs. Logan Rush is the first Connelville woman to complete a set. Mrs. Edward Sweeney of Greenwood has completed a half set.

Mrs. Grey is greatly encouraged over the successful manner in which the work is being carried on and the interest displayed by the women of Connelville and vicinity. Work has been started on 175 sets, and the women are devoting all their spare time in order to complete the sets as soon as possible.

Women who are doing the knitting are requested to pay the strictest attention to the size of the needle given on the picture and directions furnished by the committee of the Comforts Branch. Another meeting to knit will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Carnegie Free Library.

The Dawson section will meet to knit tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Cochran banquet hall. A section will be organized at Scotland Monday night.

After today's brunch will open headquarters in room No. 108 in the Title & Trust building and the organization may be received and yarn purchased from the committee. The room will be open from 3 to 5 o'clock.

NAVY LEAGUE MEETING ON THURSDAY NIGHT.

A meeting of the Navy League will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in city hall. A large attendance is desired as some important matters are to be discussed, among them an attractive proposition for procuring funds.

At this meeting all membership cards should be returned so that the roll may be compiled from them.

An official of the league today announced that comfort sets knitted from both Minerva and Fleischer yarns are acceptable to the navy. Officials of the Navy League at Washington have written Mrs. J. M. Grey that Minerva yarn is entirely satisfactory for use in making comfort sets.

The women of the league are thus at liberty to purchase either of the two yarns for use in their knitting without fear that their sets will be rejected.

DR. DOUGLAS EXPECTS SERVICE WITH ARMY.

Dr. E. W. Douglas, a local physician, went to Pittsburg this morning to be assigned to a surgical class of hospital unit of the United States army. Dr. Douglas has made application and expects to get into active service soon.

MOVE BOILER.

Duggan's Steam Rollers Drag It Through Streets to High School.

The first of the 14 1/2 ton boilers for the new high school building came through the streets this morning behind Contractor John Duggan's two steam rollers, and the procession attracted nearly as much attention as a circus parade. There was a little trouble getting the rollers to stick to the ground on the Fairview avenue hill, and altogether, moving the boiler was something of a job.

The next job will be the placing of the boiler. Then there are two more to move across the river from the Pittsburg & Lake Erie station.

Son at Penny Home.

Word has been received here of the arrival of a son Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Penny in Pittsburg. Mrs. Penny was formerly Miss Nellie Guind of Connelville. Mr. Penny was at one time employed by the West Penn Railways company in Connelville.

Grab-Yanfell Boat Thursday.

Harry Grab, Pittsburg middleweight, and Frankie Yanfell of Dayton, O., will clash in a 10-round bout at Uniontown on Thursday night. The fight will be pulled off in the West End theatre and many Connelville fight fans will attend.

Killed by Larry.

Steve Stecker, 31 years old, was killed yesterday afternoon at the tracks of the Linn works of the Snowdon Coal & Coke Company, when run down by a Larry. He was knocked from the trestle and instantly killed.

FUNERAL OF KELL LONG TO BE HELD ON THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Remains of West Side Banker to be Consigned to Last Resting Place.

The funeral of Kell Long, who died yesterday afternoon at 1:35 o'clock at his home in South First street, West Side, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the family residence, with Rev. W. J. Everhart, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, assisted by J. Prouditt, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment in Hill Grove cemetery.

As a tribute of respect, the Union National bank, of which Mr. Long was one of the organizers in 1902 and president and a director ever since, will close at 1:30 o'clock.

Mr. Long was also one of the original stockholders of the Second National bank and served as a director since its organization. He was one of the charter members of the Connelville United Presbyterian church, organized October 2, 1878, by himself, A. H. Patterson, M. M. Patterson, James Parkhill, Nancy Patterson, Louis Parkhill, Mary Moreland and Jennie Moreland, from the Laurel Hill congregation. John C. Graham and Mary J. Graham from the Burns Vint congregation. Since the organization of the church to served on the board of trustees. In 1875 Mr. Long purchased from Kane & Nickle the flour mill on South First street, which was operated by Mr. Long as the New Have Flour mill up until 1906, when he leased the business to Perry & Henderson, the present operators. Mr. Long was one of the organizers of the Indian Bridge Coal & Coke company and was vice president of the company until last Spring when he disposed of his interests. Since his retirement from active work, Mr. Long devoted much of his time in looking after the old family farm, known as the Kell farm, near Meyer, Bulskin township, which he owned. His mother, who before her marriage to James M. Long, was Miss Sarah Kell, was reared on this farm. In addition to his widow and four children named in yesterday's issue of The Courier, Mr. Long is survived by seven grandchildren, one brother, Joseph H. Long of Cadiz, Ohio, and three sisters, Mrs. John Parkhill of Connelville; Mrs. Elizabeth Allen of Cadiz, Ohio, and Mrs. M. S. Benne of Monongahela.

HOW TO HONOR THE STARRY FLAG

Regulations Prescribed for Display of Courtesy to Our National Emblem. Everybody Should Know Them.

When the national colors are passing in parade or in review, the spectator should, if walking, halt, and if setting, arise and stand at "attention" and uncover.

The National Salute is one gun for every state.

The international salute is, under the law of the Nations, 21 guns.

One shore the flag should not be dipped by way of salute or compliment.

Mars and Stripes.

Is the official name of the National Flag of the United States. In our army the National Flag is called the Standard, also the colors. When borne with another flag, the regimental color, the two flags are called "Stand of Colors." In the navy, our National Flag is known as the U. S. Ensign.

To show proper respect for the flag the following should be observed:

Display.

The flag should not be hoisted before sunrise, nor allowed to remain up after sunset.

At "Retreat" sunset, civilian spectators should stand at "Attention" and uncovered during the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Military spectators are required by regulation to stand at "attention" and give the military salute. During the playing of the National Hymn at "Retreat" the flag should be lowered, but not then allowed to touch the ground.

When the flag is flown at half staff as a sign of mourning, it should be hoisted to full staff at the conclusion of the funeral. When several flags are displayed on poles with the National Flag the stars and stripes should be hoisted first and on the tallest and most conspicuous staff.

Where two flags are displayed, one our National Flag, it should be placed on the right (to ascertain the right of a building face in the same direction as the building). No flag should ever be flown from the same staff as the U. S. flag, except in the Navy. Then only during the divine service when the church pennant may be displayed above the National Flag—God above country.

When in parade, the National Flag is carried with any other flag, it should have the place of honor, at the right.

If a number of flags are carried, the National Flag should either precede the others or be carried in the center, above the others, on a higher staff. When the National Flag is used as a banner the Union should be at the right (as you face the flag). When used as an altar covering the Union is at the right (as you face the altar) and nothing should ever be placed upon the flag except the Holy Bible.

Oral Flag Salute.

I Pledge allegiance to my flag and to the Republic for which it stands—One nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice to all.

EXPENSES CLIMB BUT NET EARNINGS KEEP FALLING OFF

The Railroads Are Handling
More Business Than Ever Before.

NEED OF LARGER REVENUE

Is Becoming More and More Apparent
Provisions for Maintenance and Improvements are Inadequate to Meet Rapidly Increasing Demands.

"Although the railroads handled over $35,000,000 more freight business and over $27,000,000 more passenger business in the first three months of this year than in the corresponding quarter of 1916, the expenses to operation and taxes increased to such an extent that net operating income fell off nearly $25,000,000," says the Railway Age Gazette.

"Since the year 1913 was the last one of good business for the railroads when conditions were normal, comparison of the results of the first quarter of that calendar year with those of the corresponding periods in 1916 and 1917 are instructive.

"From 1913 to 1916 (considering the months of January, and March only) operating revenues increased 15.5 percent; operating expenses only 6.3 per cent; taxes, 19.7 per cent. The comparatively small increase in operating expenses was reflected in the gain in net operating income which showed an increase of $62,000,000, or 41.1 per cent, compared with 1913.

"In the first three months of 1917, the abnormal increase in operating expenses and taxes was showing its influence. Operating revenues had increased $189,400,000, or 25.3 per cent, over the same period of 1913; 24.3 per cent; taxes, $1,225,000, or 24.3 per cent; taxes, $1,225,000, or 35.3 per cent, leaving an increase in net operating income of only $37,350,000, or 21.6 per cent, as compared with $62,000,000, or 41.1 per cent in 1916. Of course since 1913 there has been a large increase in the investment represented by the properties, on which a return should be earned.

"In the first quarter of 1917 operating expenses and taxes consumed 73.9 per cent of total operating revenue; or, stated in another way, out of every dollar earned by the railroads there was left for the payment of interest and dividends and for improvements in their properties, a little less than 21 cents. In the first quarter of 1917, though earnings were to great as never to have been exceeded except in October, November and December, 1916, the increase in expenses and taxes was so great that they consumed 79 cents out of each dollar of revenue, leaving to the railroads out of each dollar earned only 21 cents, thus getting net operating income back relatively to where it was before the coming of the war and the abnormal increase of business. And the tendency of expenses and taxes to increase faster than earnings is being daily accelerated.

"Furthermore, the relationship between the different classes of expenses of the railroads has been less satisfactory in 1917 than it was in 1913. Money spent for conducting transportation is gone forever; while that spent for maintenance and improvements actually improves the physical condition of the property. The statistics show that there is an ominous tendency for transportation expenses to increase out of proportion to maintenance expenses. In the first quarter of 1917, of every dollar of operating expenses incurred, 53 cents was for conducting transportation. In the first quarter of 1917, the cost of conducting transportation took almost 51

Neal Drink Treatment Quick, Sure and Safe

Thousands of former drinkers give thanks for the Neal Treatment, which in three days changes craving desire for liquor into tremendous dislike for anything alcoholic.

Nervous drinkers who feel that they can't get along without "bracers" need the Neal Treatment. It is a perfectly harmless vegetable remedy, administered by physicians and taken internally. There are no hypodermic injections.

The treatment quickly restores shattered nerves, clears clouded brains and lets sunlight into downcast, discouraged hearts. Over-indulgence in liquor ruins business, mind, health and happiness. The Neal Treatment, in three days can transform a slave to drink to self-mastery.

If you have a friend who ought to take the Neal Treatment, send him to the Neal Institute. Patrons are treated like guests. They enjoy all the comforts of home and even more privacy. All meals are served in their rooms. Home Treatment can be arranged for those who desire it.

cents of every dollar of expenditure.

"On the other hand, in the first quarter of 1917, 15 1/2 cents of every dollar of operating expenses was for maintenance of way and structures. In the same months of 1916 the amount was reduced to 16 cents and in 1917 to slightly less than 16 cents. "Present conditions make it imperative that maintenance expenses that have been deferred be met, and that the properties be even better maintained in the future than they have been in the past. The record of the first three months of 1917 indicates that these things can only be done by means of increase in revenue sufficient to leave a larger fraction of the operating-expense dollar to cover maintenance."

At the Theatres

THE PARAMOUNT.

"SOULS TRIUMPHANT."—A five part Triangle attraction starring Wilfred Lucas and Lillian Gish, and a two reel Keystone comedy are today's attractions. The production is a play of strong moral fabric depicting the struggle a man makes against the habits of former days. Home and night revelry are contrasted, each having an exponent in a woman. There is the scarlet woman, who represents the lure of sin, and there is the girl, one of the old-fashioned school, who is devoted to domestic life. Wilfred Lucas appears as a young libertine, who has satisfied his desires in a night revelry. In company with her and other celebrities he visits a house one morning following a night's carousal. He quits the company and goes for a stroll in the woods, where he meets Lillian Gish, the daughter of a country rector. A new sort of love is aroused in him and he resolves to win the respect of the girl. Eventually they are married. Tomorrow "Cheerful Green," starring Bessie Love, and "A Reckless Romeo," starring "Fatty" Arbuckle, will be shown. In "A Reckless Romeo," "Fatty" figures in the light as one of the patrons in a Broadway motion picture house, where, all unsuspectingly, he has brought his family for a pleasant evening, only to find that an episode in his flirtatious career has been caught by an envious customer and is being unveiled before the horrified eyes of his wife and his mother-in-law. The exterior of the comedy were made in Palisades park, the famous Summer resort on the Hudson. Friday, Vivian Martin and Jack Pickford will appear in "The Girl at Home." Saturday Dorothy Dalton will appear in "Wild Witches' Widow." Monday, Emmy Wehlen will be featured in "Sowers and Reapers."

SOISSON THEATRE.

"THE EASIEST WAY."—Clara Kimball Young in "The Easiest Way." This is the story of an actress who battles hard to win recognition but encounters everywhere the sort of underground politics and jealousies which battle so many beginners in theatrical careers. She accepts the influence of a wealthy man as the only means of overcoming the difficulties in her path, and as a matter of course is virtually compelled to pay the traditional price. Later she falls in love with a newspaper man, but he is too poor to marry her, and sets out to make his fortune prospecting. While he is absent the actress again finds herself helpless, and is forced to go once more to her industrial friend for assistance. Again he exacts the price, and when the newspaper man returns his fortune made, he is disgusted and refuses to forgive a second time. This leads to a dramatic situation which brings the picture to a remarkable conclusion.

OLYMPIAN THEATRE.

"THE BLUE STREAK."—A thrilling story of the rugged West, featuring two new film stars, William Nigh and Violet Palmer. It has a new theme, plenty of thrills and a dainty love story. Also a good comedy. Tomorrow William Russell in "The Frame-Up," a five reel Mutual drama. It is as fast and furious as the racing car in which the hero speeds over the road to laughter and love. Friday the popular actress, Gail Kane in "Whose Wife?" a Mutual drama.

DAVIDSON IS WINNER

Defeats Adelaide Team in Seven Inning Game at That Place.

The Davidson baseball team defeated the Adelaide team at Adelaide last evening 8-4. Davidson started the ball rolling in the first inning when one run was scored. Two more were added in the third and three in the fifth, giving the team a safe lead. Adelaide did not score until the last two innings when two runs were made in each. The game lasted for seven innings.

Widmer was a big factor in winning the game for Davidson. In the fourth and fifth innings when all the bases were filled by Adelaide men, he retired the batters in order, saving runs that a single hit would have scored.

The score by innings:

THESE are the songs and this is the music that every American wants today—that every American ought to have as a stirring reminder and an inspiration.

Here are indeed the supreme renditions of these songs that express the spirit of the Nation—sung, played and recorded with such thrilling effect that a patriot's heart will beat the faster for hearing one of these splendid records!

"The Star Spangled Banner" Columbia Record A5949, $1.50
"The Star-Spangled Banner" and "America" have been sung, played and recorded many times, but never as Graveure, the world-famed baritone, sings them on this marvelous Columbia Record. Graveure's voice rings with a mighty joy that lends a new greatness to the splendid words. This is truly the one great record that should be in every American home.

"Let's All Be Americans Now" Columbia Record A2225, 75c
A stirring, rousing appeal to patriotism, sung by the Knickerbocker Male Quartette—ensemble singing with a real thrill in it! "America, Here's My Boy," another "thriller," is on the other side.

"The Star Spangled Banner" Columbia Record A1685, $1.00
Margaret Woodrow Wilson, the daughter of our President, has sung our great national anthem, "Star-Spangled Banner." Here is the most unique patriotic record which could be bought for any musical library. Miss Wilson made this record on condition that twenty-five cents royalty from each record sold be devoted to the cause of war relief. Not only has Miss Wilson shown her patriotism; but she has offered every American citizen an opportunity to show his patriotism also.

A few other examples of the long list of patriotic records in the Columbia catalog are "Wake Up, America," sung by Henry Burr (A1978, 75c); "The National Emblem March," by Prince's Band (A1025, 75c); the descriptive record, "Uncle Sammy's Boys in Camp" (A2204, 75c), and "Dixie," sung by the Peerless Quartette (A1704, 75c).

Look up the dealer who displays the famous Columbia "music-note" trade-mark and ask him to play these records today.

UP TO COUNCIL.

Although the garbage question undergoes certain changes from time to time—usually from bad to worse—it gains no ground toward a final settlement, but remains where it has been from the beginning—up to the city council. That is the duty of the council, and it is up to them to find some solution of the problem which will prove to be more effective and satisfactory than any previous attempt in that direction.

The Council has long held, and still holds, that the nearest approach to a complete settlement of the troublesome question will come only through a thoroughly organized, well planned and well managed system of municipal collection and removal. It quite agrees with council, however, that the present is not the time to inaugurate such a system if to do so will first require the imposition of a tax of two or three mills. Instead of throwing such a burden upon the general taxpayers, when other and heavier ones are in the process of being levied to pay the expenses of the war, it might be expedient to make another effort along other lines.

True, makeshifts are rarely profitable or wise but in the present instance it might be advisable to adopt one, such as the present contractor has suggested, by subdividing the contract. If this were done and the city divided into districts, and the work of collection in each given close supervision, we would at least have the opportunity of giving the contractor a test under better conditions than have ruled heretofore. In conjunction with this method the garbage ordinance should be amended, if necessary, to require every household to properly prepare their garbage for collection. This would be ineffectual, however, without a systematic, determined and impartial enforcement of the provisions of the ordinance. Former contractors have complained that the failure of their work was due altogether to the failure of the authorities to enforce the ordinance. At no time has there been more than a small part of the families of the city who have been served by the garbage collectors, and they only those who choose to accept the service.

The necessity of preserving the public health is too vital a matter to permit any considerable number, or even a few householders, to impair the community by their disregard of the rights of others. In the matter of garbage collection there should be no exemptions. If householders will not accept the service, they should not of their own accord make necessary and proper provisions to preserve the public health, they should be required to do so. That this rule has not been obtained in Connelldale is, after all, the very root of the trouble over the garbage question. And this is one of the arguments which can be advanced for a municipal system of collection.

That apparently being out of the question at this time, it seems to be within the bounds of possibility that the district system will serve the needs better than the lack of system now in vogue. The district, or even a municipal, system will not operate without a pre-arranged plan which must be followed closely and the work under it given constant supervision. The planning and supervision are jobs for council. That body cannot wholly delegate the task to others, although the head of a department could be specifically charged with the duty of maintaining control over the system.

There is an obligation due both the present contractor and the people of the city. The former went into the business in good faith; the latter accepted his services with the hope that it would be a decided improvement upon that preceding it. Having to depend upon voluntary patronage the contractor, as others before him, has found to his sorrow that comparatively few householders, and they often in widely scattered locations, were willing to pay for garbage removal. The result has not been unexpected and is just what will follow every attempt to provide for a complete and sanitary collection, either by contract or as a municipal undertaking, without at the same time requiring general compliance with the provisions of a garbage ordinance.

The suggestion of Contractor Dornheim, with certain modifications and addition, seems, therefore, to offer a feasible temporary solution, or at least the groundwork of a plan which council can consider, amplify into a workable system to serve until we have attained unto that degree of municipal prosperity when we can afford to make garbage collection a municipal function just as street cleaning or fire protection is now.

LIBERTY BONDS AS INVESTMENT.
Delineating from consideration the fact that highly Liberty Bonds is a patriotic duty, these reasons are given which should impel every prudent citizen to become a purchaser of them. These bonds are the very best form of investment at present available. As security for the payment of both principal and interest they have behind them the credit and taxing resources of the government and back of that all the tangible property in the United States. They are purchasable at par.

Liberty Insurance

By Charles Buxton Going.

A Liberty Bond is actually an insurance policy, issued by the United States which guarantees return of the full face value. But instead of asking you to pay any premium, the United States pays premiums to you. What does your bond insure?

Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness. Is anything more vitally important? What protection would you find in a policy on your house, your goods, your health, your old age, if our country should suffer the fate of Belgium, of Serbia, of Poland, of Roumania, of northern France? What would the underwriters have left with which to repay your individual loss, or what would be left of you to profit by the payment?

Make no mistake. The peril is real. Vivid, swift to leap upon us unless our defense is ready. True, we have power in abundance, men, talents, resources, but they cannot be mobilized for our protection until we have first mobilized our money. That is what the Liberty Bonds will do.

High interest-bearing bonds will cost more and actually yield less upon the investment after deductions for taxes have been made. Liberty Bonds are free of tax.

In case the war is of short duration the Liberty Bonds will very quickly command a premium. If the war be prolonged the government will doubtless issue other bonds of a higher denomination and possibly higher rate of interest for which you may exchange Liberty Bonds at any time. What will or may happen to impair the value of industrial, railroad or municipal securities after the war no man is wise enough to foresee. They may depreciate in value to the point of a complete loss of investment value. In such event the securities of the government will alone remain the secure form of investment.

From the days of the country's impotency following the Revolution until now the war bonds of the United States have maintained their value with such unvarying persistence that the term "good as a government bond" has become the standard by which all investment values have been measured. In the present instance there is no likelihood that the reputation of our government securities will suffer any impairment unless it be that the people of the country ignorantly fail of their duty to give financial support to the war.

In subscribing for Liberty Bonds you are not making a gift to the government. You are merely making a loan to secure the payment of which you are offered the most gut-gutted security obtainable. You have taken all sorts of chances in making other loans or investments and sometimes you have profited and again you have failed to profit by the transaction. There is no element of risk in taking Liberty Bonds. On the basis of investment value and security alone, good sense and business prudence should prompt you to become a buyer. There are other reasons but these are sufficient when considering the matter stripped of every consideration save the cold, unfeeling demands of business.

If seeking a good investment Liberty Bonds are what you want. You will lose much of your credit as good business citizen if you neglect your opportunities to buy them.

If the efforts of our dyspeptic contemporary in the direction of inducing young men to enlist in Company B have been as fruitful in result as those of The Courier, we are willing to divide the honors for we hold that in this duty both papers have sought, each in its own way, to serve our common country. In encouraging anyone to support any of the many calls in patriotic service there is glory enough for all. Quit crouching, neighbor; try bounding!

Remember there is no age limit placed upon bond buyers. The money all looks alike to Uncle Sam whether it comes from grandfather or grandchild.

The garbage question, like the convalescent Unionism at the hospital, gets no better fast.

Connellsville has never failed to provide for its quota of soldiers for our war. It must not fall down on its quota of dollars for Liberty Bonds.

General Hink reports: Yes there is. The failure of American citizens to over-subscribe Liberty Bonds will do the trick. Which mission do you prefer to fill? Save your country or save Hink's skin?

Put your dollars into Liberty Bonds and keep Doddridge Hill and his horse out.

Emperor Charlie, you're next!

"Nothing can save the Germans now." All the American did not stay away from the registration places on June 6. Some of them are staying away from the Liberty Bond buying places today. Are you one of them?

King Constantine has added a few more words to the hand writing on the wall.

Was King Constantine's abdication another "strategic retreat"?

Another thanksgiving service is due to be held in Berlin over the "magnificent victory" in Greece.

The people of the city owe to the occasion on Red Cross day.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason.

RESPONSIBILITY

Oh, Kaiser Bill, with hands so red, you cannot shift your load of blame; you broke your word, forced or led, you broke your word, you broke your word. There would have been no war, Red Bill, no other non-sense sought a frag, but you were not with just to kill, and drank a dragon to "the day." And you but said, "Let war talk to die, and we would see the dove of peace, where now the battle rages on." But you for change were altered, and "the day" was disturbed, your sleep, and now your battle name is cursed wherever soldiers' widows weep. As horse counts on

One of the world's greatest statesmen, when he was asked to name the first requisite for successful war, replied with emphasis, "Money!" "And the second requisite?" "Money!" "And the third?" "Money!" Every one of us can prove himself a statesman in decision and action by lending to our country some portion of this paramount requisite. If we have not the ready cash on hand, we can save the contribution week by week and do our bit just as effectively. Any bank will gladly explain how, and handle all the business details without charge.

And finally, the promise held out by these Liberty Bonds is far happier than that of any insurance policy, which merely undertakes to reimburse you if you lose. The Liberty Bonds are a guarantee that we shall NOT lose. You win with your country, and collect your policy, too! Insure the United States, and the United States will insure you! Buy a Liberty Bond!

THE FIRE ESCAPE.

The fire escape is a neat, cast-iron substitute for crumpled paper which is designed to stimulate the sale of cork shoes. Thousands of excited, night-robed hotel guests have been directed to the upper deck of a long, spiral fire escape and reached the bottom in perfect safety, only to be greeted by a 20-foot drop to the pavement and a painful fracture of the left hip. For this reason, most of the hotel guests prefer to dive from the window and swim to bed quilt and take their chances with the rebound.

For some reason which no one has ever been able to discover, the hotel management always locates the fire escape on the side of the hotel which will not be reached by the flames until the following afternoon. This causes guests who have no sense of direction to skip wildly through the corridors and run into several blind alleys before becoming discouraged and dropping head first out of a window. It will never be really safe to travel in this country until hotel keepers are obliged to furnish a blue print and a rustic guide to direct the lost and bewildered guests to the fire escape.

In some of our larger cities, during the heated days of the summer, a fire escape is utilized to good advantage as a sleeping porch. It is a weird sight to see a large, semi-circular, fairly looking restful on the boom of a fire escape which has been strung up high for two weeks, and right after supper begin to let go of it at the rate of 4200 kilowatts per minute. Some people also hang the Monday wash on the fire escape where it can be clearly seen from the windows of an elevated train, and adds a touch of romantic interest to the scenery.

The most popular and effective fire escape now in use is the church, which sometimes fails to furnish an easy exit, and has to be supplemented by the death-bed repentance, one of the most painful spectacles in this life is that of an old man who climbed out on the fire escape of church membership, and then discovered that the church had no fire escape, and he had to go back in and crawl under the pews to get out.

Special to The Courier.
CONNELLSVILLE, June 13.—Mrs. Elizabeth H. Beddows, aged 72 years, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Davis, at 200 Walnut avenue. There survive the following daughters, Mrs. Frank Duncan, Knoxville; Mrs. T. H. Lewis, Greenville; Mrs. W. L. Davis, Scottsdale, and one son, William Beddows of Scottsdale. Funeral services will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Davis. The body will be taken at 10 o'clock Friday morning to Apollo where the funeral will be held at 1 o'clock.

Fine Exhibit.
Never before in Scottsdale has the exhibit of school work created so much interest on the part of the parents and friends as the one held here this year. Every child in any grade in the school from the first grade up and from every building in town had work on exhibition. During the afternoon and evening yesterday, there was a large crowd present. In the evening to high school orchestra furnished music.

Of special interest was the display from the art department, including wall paper, tile and linoleum designs, made on looms, and pottery, turned and glazed in a kiln set up in the school. Beautiful woven baskets were also shown. Interior decoration designs were displayed and a feature of the designs for dresses. In the English department, a newspaper called "The Budget," was gotten together, contained a current events page, local news, fiction, advertising, editorial, household, athletic, social, and farm and garden pages. Of the one page, Emanuel Morris was editor-in-chief, and Clyde Parker, business manager, and of the other Leon Morris was editor and Wesley Leightner, business manager. From the domestic science department there was a handsome exhibition of sewing and a the afternoon the eighth grade girls worked, cooking various articles that made the mouth water. In the evening the high school girls worked. In the dining room, a table was set correctly for luncheon. The manual training department had perhaps more articles on exhibition this year than ever before, showing work that is some of the best ever done by high school students.

These boys have been excused from school for farm work and are being carried on the school roll and given credit for their work: Wesley Gault, Alfred Chain, Minno Horach, William Pirt, Raymond Gordon, Thola Noon, Eugene Porter, Robert Small, Joseph Jaur, William Landenberg and Percy Porter. To get credit they must present each week a blank showing how many hours they worked and what the work consisted of. This must be signed by the student and the employer or parent.

A GOOD CARNIVAL

Smith Greater Shows Playing to Record Business Here.

The Smith Greater Shows which is exhibiting on the Seventh street grounds, West Side, this week, is handling record crowds for the 1917 season. The carnival, which has a reputation for being one of the largest on the road, claims the distinction of being one of the cleanest that has ever visited this city. The shows are playing for the benefit of the West Side Volunteer fire department.

The carnival carries 20 carloads of property, and employs 300 people, and besides free attractions, embraces 15 paid amusements. One of the most complete animal circuses is with the Smith Shows, and it is an attraction that appeals to all classes. The Old Kentucky Minstrels adds much pleasure to the evening. Eighteen colored performers, singing old plantation melodies and executing buck had wing dances make up the show. The midway is full of other shows just as attractive and clean. With the weather remaining favorable, the turnout tonight is expected to be larger than ever. As persons hear of the clean character of the shows, the attendance increases, because it is one carnival where the family can go without the usual drawback of immoral shows generally found with other companies.

Threats made against the man caused guards to be placed around the jail keeper.

Maywren was employed by Queen as a farmhand. He disappeared after the murder and fire. He is about 35 years old.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Connelville people.

Mrs. J. L. Williams, 812 North Tenth St., Connelville, says: "About five years ago I was dreadfully ill with kidney complaint. My back ached constantly and I had dizzy spells and headaches during which spots floated before my eyes. The doctors weren't helping me much and my husband finally persuaded me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I took four boxes and was entirely cured. My health remained good until about six months ago when my back began to be weak and painful again. Of course, I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting two boxes at Clarke's Drug Store and they again rid me of the trouble. My health is now good."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Williams had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

"Busy!"

It is actually more work for a telephone operator to report that a line is "busy" than to complete the connection. Just before the operator "plugs in" to the "jack" or terminal of the line you are calling, she touches the tip of the cord to its edge. If the line is in use she hears a buzzing sound which informs her of that fact, and she reports accordingly to you. Bear in mind, too, that the "busy" report does not always mean that the telephone you are calling is in use—some other "party" on the line may be talking.

Busy men have busy telephones. It is unavoidable that you may sometimes have to knock more than once at their telephone doors.

VOLCANOES WON FOR THE BRITISH

Million Pounds of Explosives Routed Germans in Belgium.

FILLED AIR WITH FLAMES

British Had Prepared For the Offensive For Two Years—Impossible For Enemy to Exit on the Front, and as a Result the Map Was Changed Over Nine Mile Front.

What was possibly the greatest offensive since the war in Europe started began the other morning at 5 o'clock when orders by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, commander of the British forces, gave the signal for the detonation of 1,000,000 pounds of explosives underneath the German positions on a nine mile front between Ypres and Arras, Belgium.

A correspondent of the London Daily News said that the British released the artillery preparation for the battle. "For seven days we had been shelling the enemy's position pitilessly," he wrote, "never letting them rest and occasionally subjecting the portion of the line or another to terrific bombardment. Twice, indeed, we poured our fire on the whole front to be attacked by way of rehearsal on the same scale."

"Under this treatment the whole topography of the front has been changed. Woods have been swept out of existence, hill slopes have been stripped and laid bare, and villages like Wytschaete and Messines have disappeared."

The correspondent told the story of the desultory firing in the early morning hours; then "that began which blotted out all sound and knowledge of everything else. How many miles went up at once I do not know exactly, but it was nearly a score. Many of these miles were made more than a year ago and have thus have lain under the German feet undiscovered. In all I believe 400 tons of high explosives were fired simultaneously."

Nine Streams of Fire. "I can only guess for having seen one of the great leaping streams of orange flame which shot upward from that part of the front immediately before me, each one of the blue a huge volcano in itself, with as many more volcanoes going off at the same moment beyond them, hidden by their flames and out of sight, and each vast sheet of flame as it leaped roaring upward throwing up dense masses of dust and smoke, which stood like great pillars towering into the sky, all illuminated by the fires below."

"It was terrifying as a spectacle, and what was more terrifying was that the earth shook like a house of cards. I stood on a solid hill and it quaked like jelly or like some small house on the edge of a railway line when a heavy train thunders by. Then, even before the echoes of that awful explosion died and while the pillars of smoke still towered and grew, all our batteries awoke at once. "Imagine the whole sky ringed with lightning which flickers white and yellow, orange, red and green. Imagine a thousand great needles all the colors of the rainbow. Imagine the sky one diamond with a million facets being shaken in a giant hand. Imagine what you will and still you will get no picture of it."

British Artillery Triumphs. This fire reached its climax just as dawn was graying the eastern skies and while the full moon was still suspended high in the heavens. The success, won along about a ten mile front from Observatory ridge, south-east of Ypres, to Ploegsteert wood, just north of Arras, proved another triumph for British artillery supremacy.

An the fighting was wholly on Belgian soil, however, the Belgian artillery, stationed some distance north of the actual line of attack, lent aid with a violent bombardment of the German positions within range of its varied caliber weapons.

Messines ridge is a low lying, protrusion extending along the greater part of the fighting front. It is an insignificant bit of ground to look at from below. At its greatest height it rises barely seventy meters above sea level. This surrounding country is so low and flat, however, that Messines had an observation value practically incalculable.

It was a position which dominated the northern half of the British line in the west, and no operations of a large character could be planned without its possession.

Shells Spurred Molten Metal.

Shells that spurted molten metal in surging streams of golden rain crashed in appalling numbers about the heads of the defending soldiers. High explosive and shrapnel fire was carried out with such rapidity that the very earth writhed under the force of the attack. Mines that had taken two years to dig and fill with an overwhelming explosive broke into an avalanche of flaming destruction in the half light of dawn. This was indeed a Ypres day of retaliation and victory for the victims sufferings of two years and eight months.

Both strategically and geographically all of the assaults were victorious, and all the corps and divisions employed reported that their objectives had been reached and maintained.

Too Much For Him.

Voltaire could not speak much English. The reason why he refused to study the language is that it was drilled into him that "plene" was pronounced "pink," which he thought very pretty and acceptable. But right on top of it he was introduced to "aque," which his teacher said must be called "aque." Finding it impossible to reconcile the difference, he went off into a philosophical tantrum and dropped the study.

BREAK TRAFFIC RULES

Two Automobiles Fined For Violation of Regulations.

E. A. Boyd of Pittsburgh, who backed his automobile down Pittsburg street, from near Brimstone Corner to Orchard alley, was fined $2.50 for his offense Tuesday morning in police court. Boyd was arrested by Patrolman Turner.

Turner, half an hour later, arrested William Krampe, driving his own truck, for disobeying the traffic signals. The driver is alleged to have mentioned to go out South Pittsburg street and then to have turned down Crawford on the left side of the street. He explained that it was the first time he had driven his truck here and did not know the traffic rules. He was fined $2.50.

Mayor Marietta instructed the cops this morning not to accept anything less than $5 as a forfeit for violations of the traffic law.

Resolutions Sent to the President

Hon. Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.: WHEREAS the United States of America, through its representatives, the president and the congress, is facing an unusual responsibility in its relations with the nations of the world. This, then, is a time when, regardless of all other considerations, it is the duty of every American citizen, and should be his dearest wish, to do all in his power to support the government of the United States and renew his loyalty and patriotism. The Lyceum and Chautauque represent and are a most democratic expression of American ideals. The Redpath Lyceum bureau was conceived during the dark days of the civil war and found its beginning and first work in the days of our country's needs—in the regeneration and rehabilitation of the United States in the years following the civil war. The Redpath Lyceum bureau, through its spokesmen, the patriotic platform giants of that day, used its influence in maintaining American ideals and inspiring the people to patriotic service. Therefore, in conformity with our tradition, be it resolved by the directors, officers and department managers of the Redpath Lyceum bureau in meeting assembled: That we renew our own allegiance to America and our loyalty to the flag and our government; That we use our utmost efforts in the coming Chautauque and Lyceum season to promote the patriotic influences of our great country and to inspire the people to greater heights of loyalty and a greater consecration to the cause of democracy, which is to say, to the cause of American ideals. THE REDPATH LYCEUM BUREAU AND CHAUTAUQUES.

As part of this program of loyalty and service, the second day of the local Chautauque has been designated as "The right is more precious than peace, and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest our hearts—for democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations, for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free. To such a task we can dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything that we are and everything that we have, with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured. God helping her, she can do no other." From the President's Message.

MILLER HUGGINS ONCE A LAWYER

Cardinals' Leader Was Admitted to Bar in Ohio.

DIAMOND LURE TOO STRONG

Will Go Down in Annals of Pastime as One of Greatest Thinkers in the Game—His First Big League Engagement Was With the Cincinnati
Reds.

Miller Huggins, leader of the St. Louis Cardinals, whose recent playing has been a topic of discussion throughout the baseball world, intended to become a lawyer when he was a lad. He liked to play baseball, but possessed such a keen mentality his parents insisted he follow the law.

So the youth abandoned bats and balls and took up the text book. He studied long and laboriously in the schools of his home town, near Cincinnati and afterward took a course in the University of Cincinnati, from which he was graduated with high honors. Later he was admitted to the bar of Ohio, but it never has been recorded that Miller Huggins, lawyer, hung out his shingle. The lure of the diamond proved too strong for the embryo Blackstone to resist.

Huggins had made a reputation in Cincinnati and environs as a ball player, and he had no difficulty finding employment on the diamond. He liked the game because it afforded an opportunity to think. And Miller Huggins will go down in the annals of the pastime as one of the greatest thinkers in the game.

He Abandoned Law. "I gave up the law for baseball," declared Miller Huggins, "because I liked the sport. It is the greatest game of them all. It is more than a game, for the real ball player employs his brains as much as the shrewdest business man. Of course there are players who use only their hands and their feet and their eyes. They seldom think about anything except pay days. But the real ball player makes it a point to think just as hard as the successful man in business, for the game is a business after all, and a great one."

In the development of the Cardinals—and I want to go on record now as declaring them to be real contenders—I have endeavored to drill into the players the need for deep thought. I have shown them that brains are able to triumph over mechanical skill. Not only have they learned to fight, they have learned to use their heads.

"There are few stars on the Cardinals, but we don't need stars. Give me a team that has learned the lesson of co-operation and has a few good pitchers and I'll beat a so-called star aggregation any time."

Miller Huggins has indeed accomplished wonders with St. Louis' team. Ever since he supplanted Roger Bresnahan as leader of the Mound City club he has shown that he is an able commander. The first year he was in charge he led them to third place, a place St. Louis clubs of the past rarely have occupied, but then came the Federal league, the disintegration of St. Louis which resulted in his departure to the Giants, and the passing of Tom Pettit to New York.

Some Hard Blows. The loss of those players was a blow to the team, but Huggins kept doggedly at his task, and this year, without a lot of expensive stars, he has welded together a team that bids fair to make much trouble for the so-called contenders of the east.

Miller Huggins' first big league engagement was with the Cincinnati Reds, with which team he played several years. He began with the Reds in 1910. In 1910 he went to the Cardinals in a trade and soon was recognized as one of the best second basemen in the game.

Huggins was with the Cardinals during the managerial regime of Kopee Hiresman, one time catcher for the Giants. When Bresnahan was deposited Huggins assumed the manning of the team.

Before entering major league baseball Huggins played from 1901 to 1903 with St. Paul of the American association and before that played with a number of semiprofessional clubs.

The veteran Bob Couchman was added to the list of do hit pitchers in the Texas league when he did not allow Fort Worth a safety in the second game of a double header. The only run of the game was made for Galveston by Couchman with a three base hit and a man on base in the third inning.

Two Cincinnati sport writers, Jack Ryder and W. A. Phelon, who have been active service and applied for commissions, were rejected on the ground that they had accumulated too much aviatropis.

President Charles Ebbets of the Brooklyn Dodgers is one of the club owners who oppose early openings, and he said that he will advocate a much later date for the opening of the National league season hereafter.

"Starting the season on April 12 is a joke," opined the squire of Flatbush. "I think April 25 is plenty early enough to start the season. I made a strong suit last winter to get the National league to open later and will do so again. I think the kind of weather we had will touch other managers a need lesson. It is a shame to dampen the ardor of the fans with these early season starts."

Weather indications in the east were discouraging, and if postponements continue to pile up at the rate they have started the big leaguers will have more than the usual number of double headers on their hands.

FRESH CHICKENS

How to Choose One From Among Embalmed Poultry.

PUT WHOLESOMENESS FIRST.

Tips About Dry Picked, Air Cooled Birds, and the Great Danger of Bacteria Entering a Dressed One, Thus Causing Poultry Poisoning.

We should place wholesomeness ahead of plumpness and youth in other words, the police of greatest importance to consider are: "Is the bird unaltered or reasonably fresh? Is there danger of its giving ptomaine poisoning to some one who eats it because the bacteria of decay have begun their deadly work?"

The time was when it was considered safer to purchase poultry which had been drawn, it being argued that the entrails were likely to contaminate the meat. Heads and feet were removed, and the purchaser felt she was getting not weight and not paying for that which must be discarded.

As a matter of fact, it is now believed by the majority that it is safer to buy poultry undrawn and with the heads and feet where nature placed them. Once an opening has been made into the body cavity of a bird or the head and feet cut off, the moist, delicate tissues are laid open to the air, fairly inviting the invasion of bacteria. These bacteria soon enter the flavor of the meat, even if actual decomposition does not set in.

The feet and head tell a good deal about the age of the bird. Young birds have clean, smooth legs and feet, while old ones show a rough, scaly condition with the development of spurs. Some poultry specialists also claim that a fowl with yellow legs is of better flavor than one having black legs.

The head of a bird which has been killed some time will tell the fact plainly to any one who can read the symptoms. Sunken eyes, darkened neck and a greenish blue color near the bill all show that the bird is no longer fresh.

To order a bird over the telephone is to trust entirely to one's marketman. It is much better to make the selection in person and to have the chicken or duck or whatever it may be drawn in one's presence.

Sometimes chickens are dry picked immediately after they are killed, and so hasten the cooling process they are allowed to stand for a time in very cold water in order to remove the animal heat.

This is objectionable also, for a chicken cooled in water absorbs more or less of it, which is paid for at food prices. The skin of such a bird has a white look, which has been described as "powdery." It has a thick look and is inclined to be rather shiny.

A properly dry picked, air cooled chicken has a loose, clear looking skin. There are sure to be short hairs, which it is necessary to remove by singeing, and the papillae, or quill sockets, show plainly.

It is not at all difficult to learn to dress poultry at home. Ten or fifteen minutes at the most is all that is needed to prepare a good sized bird for cooking, and there is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing exactly what you have got.

In these days of the high price of living and the still higher price of doing sick the more we pay others for doing the less money we have for ourselves.

BABY BONDS.

Hildegard Hawthorne of the Vigilantes Talks About the War Loan.

The French nation has set itself definitely against any premature peace because of one tremendous resolution—the children now growing up shall not have in their turn to meet the hideous agony of war.

This is a war more to make the children free forever from war than for anything else.

"I wish I could do something, really something, mother," said a little boy whom I know, "to help America. Don't you think I could be a boy scout even if I'm only eleven? And when I'm twelve why can't I go on a destroyer and chase submarines?"

It was funny, of course. But it was not funny to see the glow of high devotion on that child's face, to feel that his whole being was thrilled with the desire of service. It was immensely moving. To turn aside that passionate wish to do something for the country whose history he was studying in his school, a country that to him was far more of a real object to be loved than to many of the older persons whose interests had narrowed to their own business and their own struggles, was to turn aside something vital and precious.

This boy was one of five children. Each child had something saved up, the result of self denials and ambitions. Each got certain sums weekly for chores performed or in prizes for good conduct. And all were eager to "do something."

So we talked to them about the Liberty loan, explained how the country needed money to help it in the great work which they were as yet too small to share in, but which the money they might give could do its full share in making successful.

"If each one of you puts in $10 you can buy one bond. You will have a liberty bond, and you will be really helping your country. If you earn money by work and by being good and give that money into the keeping of America you will be working for her just as much as though you were fighting in the trenches or sinking submarines."

All I say is, try it with your children. Use that beautiful young enthusiasm in a definite way. Let your child own a liberty bond and tell him or her just what it means. Let him grow up with a stake in his country's credit, let him feel himself a part of the tremendous whole.

This war is for the sake of the children. The child can help to win it if you use his generous wish to help his country and teach him that there really is work he can do. Even if he earns only a few pennies and you have to make up the rest he will be doing his best. He will be learning the lesson of patriotism and of service and co-operation and thrift. Let him own a liberty bond.

One of the Delectable Weaves Is Just Plain, Old Fashioned.

Knitted horizontally in good old wash cloth stitch is this youthful sweater in apple tree green, worn by the model, star Louise Hunt. The softness and beauty of these long sweaters are the characteristics that make them so popular for general wear.

Two cups of cornmeal, two cups of chopped apples or a cup of seed raisins, two tablespoons of melted butter or bacon, a teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoons of baking powder, two cups of boiling water. Put the cornmeal into a bowl, cover with boiling water, mix until smooth and cover with cloth. When cold add the well beaten eggs and beat two minutes, add apples, butter, salt and baking powder and mix well. Brush three large pie tins with butter or drippings, pour in mixture and put in moderate oven. Bake twenty-five to thirty minutes and serve warm with fruit syrup or apple jelly.

Why Water Puts Out Fire.

Water puts out fire for two good reasons. First, if a thing is covered with water, the oxygen of the air cannot get at it to burn it. But that is not nearly the most important reason why water puts out fire. It is that water has a great capacity for heat and can hold a great deal of it. It takes so much heat into itself, and so quickly, that it lowers the temperature of the burning thing that it can no longer burn.

As to Eating.

It is a good plan not to eat when you are hurried.

When you are troubled.

When you have no appetite.

When you are laboring under any strain of mind.

When you cannot lay aside, every care and give yourself up to leisure for enjoyment of the meal.

City Physicians Explain Why They Prescribe Nuxated Iron

To Make Beautiful, Healthy Women and Strong Vigorous Men

NOW BEING USED BY OVER THREE MILLION PEOPLE ANNUALLY

Quickly Transforms the Flabby Flesh, Fullest Tissues, and Pale Cheeks of Weak, Anemic Men and Women Into a Perfect Glow of Health and Beauty. Often Increases the Strength of Delicate, Nervous, Run-Down Folks 100 Per Cent in Two Weeks' Time.

New York, N. Y.—It is conservatively estimated that over three million people annually in this country alone are taking Nuxated Iron. Such astonishing results have been reported from its use both by doctors and laymen, that a number of physicians in various parts of the country have been asked to explain why they prescribe it so extensively, and why it apparently produces so much better results than were obtained from the old forms of inorganic iron.

Extracts from some of the letters received are given below:

Dr. Ferdinand Klax, Anemic Men and Women Medical Author, New York.

"I am a physician and medical author. There can be no vigorous man without iron. Iron means vitality. Iron means life. Iron means health. Iron means strength. Iron means power. Iron means energy. Iron means action. Iron means success. Iron means happiness. Iron means everything. Iron means Nuxated Iron."
